Synopsis

Cold the Night, Fast the Wolves is a gripping novel that explores the themes of survival, redemption, and the power of storytelling. Set in the unforgiving wilderness of the Canadian North, the novel follows a group of survivors who must band together to stay alive after their plane crashes. As they struggle to survive the elements, they are haunted by the memories of the lives they left behind.

The survivors include a young woman named Mia, who is pregnant and alone; a doctor named John, who is struggling to come to terms with his past mistakes; and a pilot named Ben, who is haunted by the guilt of the crash. As they travel through the wilderness, they must learn to trust each other and find a way to move on from their pasts.
