

The Story of Frank Phillips and the Birth of Phillips Petroleum

Frank Phillips was born in Iowa in 1873. He grew up on a farm and learned the value of hard work and determination. After graduating from high school, Phillips moved to Oklahoma, where he worked as a schoolteacher, a farmer, and a store clerk. In 1905, he struck oil on his farm near Bartlesville, Oklahoma. This discovery changed his life forever.

Phillips was convinced that the oil industry had a bright future. He quit his job and founded Phillips Petroleum in 1917. The company's early years were difficult. Phillips had to overcome many challenges, including a lack of capital and competition from larger oil companies. But he persevered, and Phillips Petroleum gradually grew into a major player in the industry.
